AIRPORT CONCESSIONS GET MAKEOVER
NEWS CHANNEL 13 STORE FIRST TO OPEN

Albany, NY (November 14, 2014) - - - Paradies, the oldest U.S. owned and operated airport concessionaire, has begun a major overhaul of its shops at Albany International Airport. The first new store, the News Channel 13 Travel Shop, opened today on Concourse-B.

“Paradies has been delivering first-class service to Albany International Airport travelers since the opening of our new terminal in 1998,” said Rev. Kenneth Doyle, Chairman of the Albany County Airport Authority. “We look forward to Paradies new and exciting store concepts and services.”

“We are extremely excited to continue our long-term relationship with the Albany International Airport and deliver these great new concepts that will engage travelers, as well as continue our award-winning customer service program that has received top honors in the industry for 18 years,” said Gregg Paradies, president and CEO of Paradies.

In 2013, Paradies successfully bid for and received a new 10-year Airport contract to provide innovative and quality brands in the specialty retail, food and beverage, and essential news and gift categories. Under the agreement, Paradies will completely refurbish its Airport stores with new and recognizable branding.

The WNYT Travel Store will carry such essential favorites such as popular local and national newspapers, magazines, souvenirs, travel and electronic accessories, health and beauty aids, gourmet snacks and ice-cold beverages, as well as an assortment of local and regional gifts. The Store will also feature a high definition screen streaming WNYT news coverage.

Work will begin shortly on the Paradies store on Concourse-A. The store will be branded as a CNBC store. The existing Capital News and Gifts/Booksellers store on Concourse-A will be the final store to be converted.
